Title Of Full City Engineer Awarded Larry W. Adams

In Fifth Week of Spring Training

Major, Minor, Pee Wee Leagues Set For 1967 Opening of Baseball Season

Rudolph Hartman Receives Award

It was by a unanimous decision of the City Council that Larry W. Adams be appointed as City Engineer. Councilman Sorensen, member of the Personnel Committee announced that since Contractual Engineer William Lockman's resignation was effective May 1, that he would entertain a motion that the council appoint Adams as full time Engineer. The motion was given a second by Mayor Pro Tem King, also a member of the Personnel Committee, and the decision of the five Councilmen was unanimous.

City Attorney Martin then asked as to the decision of the Council as to the salary connected with the appointment and was told that this would be negotiated between the Council and the newly-appointed Engineer prior to May 1.

Other Business
Sewer Districts 87 and 89 were created but will await the creation of District 90 before bids are placed, which would save the property owners considerable expense.

Ordinance No. 65 adding a new part 3 of Chapter 1 of Article 5 of the City Code establishing a Volunteer Fire Department and providing the Chief thereof was given its first reading and should have its final reading April 25 and become law 30 days hence.

There was considerable discussion of damage done by Monday night's heavy rain in the vicinity of County Flood Control work and steps to be taken to prevent further damage.

All other business was of a General Accounting nature, preparing the City system to give monthly statistical balances, the renting of a machine and accounting firm to that end. Council adjourned at 11:36 with all items completed.

The Council will select its new Mayor at the meeting of April 25.

Search And Rescue Team Successful

The participation in the Sportsman Show in Los Angeles by the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team was termed as quite successful.

Over 400 manhours were spent by team members at the show, putting on 15 different shows during their stay and distributing around 10,000 Mountaineer Safety Rules.

The greatest attractions, of course, were Henrietta Harkness, famed bloodhound, and Jenks, who was used for the demonstrations, the latter being the dog of Ray Anderson.

As chairman of the Fund Drive for the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, Lester Anthony stated, "We sure didn't make much money, but we met a lot of nice people."

My, my, here it is the middle of April and we were going to get so much done during this month, it had a lot of promises.

Of course, by now all of us had better have our second half of our Personal Property taxes paid, or from now on it will be a 6 percent penalty plus $3 for advertising.

And then again according to the calendar we had better have our Federal and State income tax made out and in the mail by midnight on April 17. This year self-employed persons have to pay an estimate on their social security, at least one-fourth. Just something else to deplete the bank account.

Speaking of depleting bank accounts, mine is so deflated now that it would take a major Santana blowing for two steady weeks to even put any air back into the account.

At this time of the year I am really thankful for that good old friend of mine Paul O'Sullivan of Security First National. He's the boy that has that Ready Reserve that always is found underneath your check book.

Of course, I have never found just how deep he will let you get into him, but the past couple of months he has been extra pleasant to me. Really, I have not determined if he is encouraging me to go ahead, or if this is just the pleasant smile just before he lowers the boom on me.

Anyway, I am through the property tax. Got my cancelled check back so guess he'll let me ride on that one, right now I am worrying out the Federal and State. Of course, it he gets too rough on me, he may find that the first time in history that the Security First National Bank Manager is also the publisher of a newspaper.

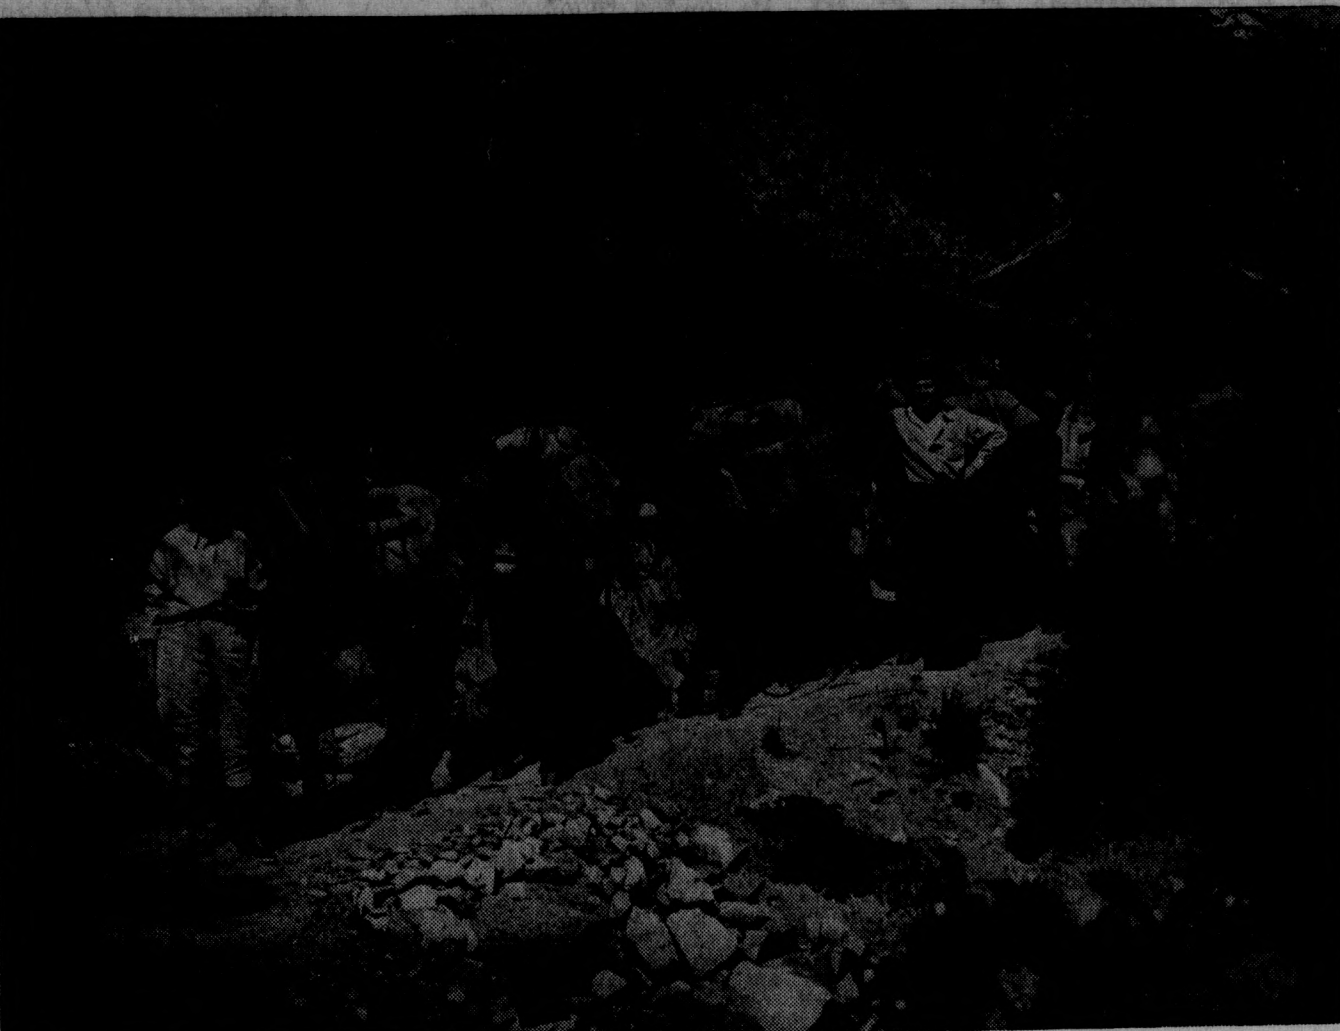

I remember one time, many years ago in Oregon, when a fellow publisher had a rough time of it, and had secured a loan from the local banker, but could never seem able to keep his head above water. Each week his newspaper would arrive on publication day, COD, and he just did not have the money to pay for it and would always run over to the banker for a few dollars advance.

This went on for several months, finally the banker became a little bit discouraged with all of the procedure and contacted the paper company. As the story goes the banker bought several months supply of newspaper and kept it locked up in the bank safe, each week he would dole it out to the publisher. When I left Oregon in 1955 this was still the procedure. I just wonder if friend Paul would be so accommodating? ... I'll bet he would.

Anyway, April is half over and we still have another major project that needs your attention immediately. The Fund Drive for the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team. Yes, the month is half over and the fund has not nearly succeeded to half the amount required to operate our team for the next year.

The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is doing everything in their power to raise the $8,000 desperately needed by the team. The team needs a new truck and they need to outfit six new members of the team. If you have not sent in your donation, then do it today, send it to the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, 49 S. Baldwin.

Of course, if you want to do something for yourself then you have just three to four more days to attend the — Please turn to Page 12

THE PASSING OF THE BURRO from the Sierra Madre scene, recalls much the same feeling of loss that accompanied the removal of the ferry boats from San Francisco Bay. His unearthly trumpeting in the early dawn, brought to the hiker an air of expectancy which the clear washed mountain air brings. This rare mountain picture of the last pack train to carry supplies on a Sierra Madre trail, was taken and kindly furnished by Rudolph Hartman, of Hartman Rexall Pharmacy. In the picture are Mrs. Cora Corum, who operated the declining business and stables at the end of Sturtevant Drive and Billy Van Meter of Sierra Madre, now deceased. The end of a colorful era.

5,000 Hikers In Three Day Holiday Once Popular Sturtevant Trail Now Abandoned

by BILL WARK

The Sturtevant Trail from Sierra Madre to Chantry Flats is brush covered and completely abandoned now. Once so popular and heavily used, now it holds only the faint prints of the fox and raccoon and the sharp clefted dig of the deer.

Built in 1883, by the Burlingame Brothers seeking lumber from the fine stands of timber that abound in Winter Creek Canyon, the trail later bore the name of William Sturtevant, an early yesteryear miner who built a resort in the upper reaches of the Big Santa Anita Canyon in 1898.

With the advent of the big red Pacific Electric cars into Sierra Madre in 1906, thousands of hikers each year were making their way up and down the Mt. Wilson and Sturtevant Trails. The pack trains flourished hauling supplies for the many cabins and resorts that sprang up along the crystal streams of Winter Creek and the Big Santa Anita Canyons.

Often the hikers were forced to stand on the airy edge of the trail as the heavily laden burros and mules passed by. So heavy was the weekend traffic up and down the Sturtevant Trail during the great hiking era, that in 1919, C. F. Marvin, acting secretary of agriculture, established the following regulations.

A. Pack trains shall have the right of way over all horsemen and pedestrians.

Monday's Fire Call

Fire Call at 8:02 Monday morning to the house at the rear of 161 Montecito found a couch on fire and the flames creeping up the wall. Evidence of a cigarette and ash tray were blamed for the cause of the fire.

Gerry Mitchell and Pat Raymond were the registered occupants, neither of whom was present at the time of the alarm. Quick response and work of the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department saved the house from considerable damage.

Owner of Famed Custom Car

Erik Altmetz Begins Own Auto Body Shop Business

by LYNNE RICHARDSON

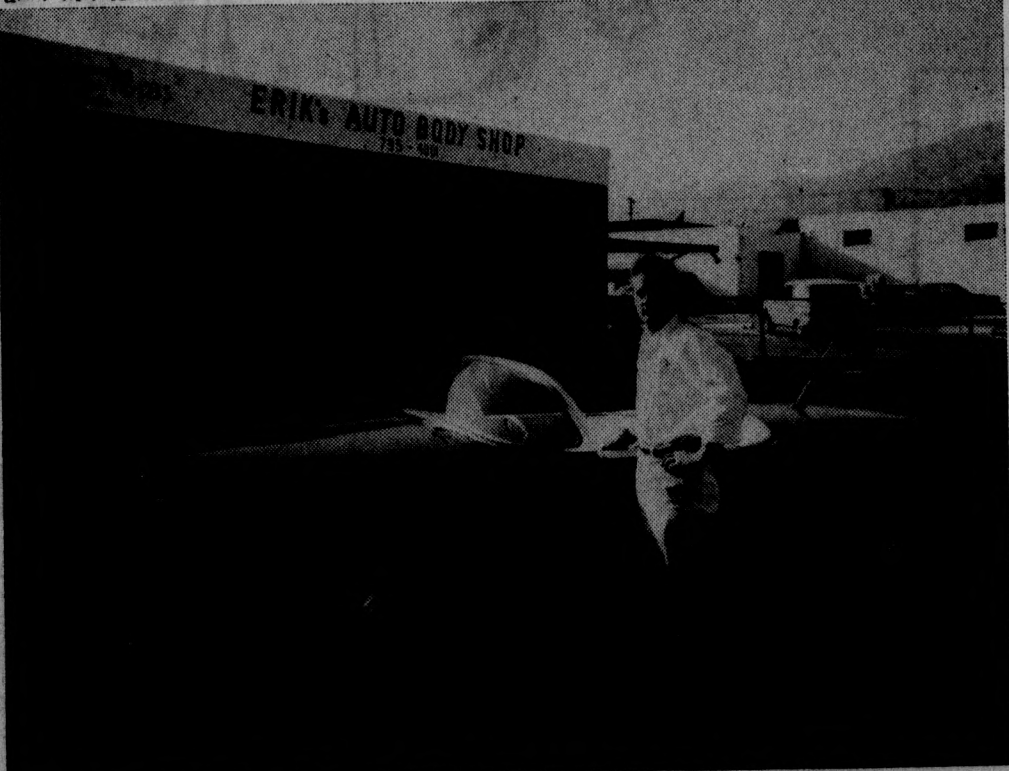

Sierra Madreans now have an excellent service available to them. Some of us aren't aware of it because it's only four weeks old.

Erik Altmetz is the man to see if you are the distressed owner of a smashed car. And who, at one time or another, doesn't fall heir to this horrid kind of situation? He is not just an average auto body repair mechanic—this man has really dedicated his life to this field.

Born in Posen, Germany, he lived and grew up in Germany and received his apprenticeship there. In 1957 he came to the United States and made his home in Sierra Madre.

"Poppy" Hatfield was his employer for six years. Mr. Hatfield had a body shop in Sierra Madre until his retirement in 1963. From 1963 until about six months ago, Mr. Altmetz worked at

Project Hope Will Sponsor Annual Party

This year's party for the fund-raising Project Hope Drive is going to be even more fun than last year's, if that's possible!

Pasadena Chapter of the Project Hope sponsors this gala event. They plan to raise money for the Hope, the famous ship that sails around the continents and brings medical aid to those who can't afford it.

The ship is supported almost totally by donations given to the People to People Foundation in Washington, D.C. Project Hope is part of this foundation. Its crew is composed of volunteer doctors, nurses and medical aides who sign up for one year. The medical director aboard Hope this year is Dr. Walter Rogers who also was the director last year.

The committee is planning to go all out this year and raise over the $4,000 they earned last year. This party is one of their biggest social events and fund-raising events of the year. There's going to be dancing and the music will be provided by a swinging Dixieland band called the Music Makers. Bottles of champagne will be given away as prizes.

A very, and I mean very, unique sports film will be shown. It'll be the highlight of the evening.

April 28, from 6:30 to 9:30 in the evening, this affair will take place at the Stewart Building at 3360 E. Foot-hill Blvd. The charge will be $15 per couple.

Honesty in advertising is the best policy, and will pay in the end.

Audobon Society Of Pasadena Plan Field Trips

The April meeting of the Pasadena Audubon Society will be April 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the west wing of the Pasadena Public Library, Walnut St. at Garfield Ave. The film, presented by Mel and Barbara Horton, will be on their fascinating motor car trip through Africa.

A field trip to Big Tujunga Wash is planned for Saturday, April 15. On Sunday, May 7, there will be a field trip to the Los Angeles County Arboretum, beginning at 7 a.m., with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Sear Jr. as leaders.

The public is invited to attend the meetings and field trips of the society. For further information or a copy of the monthly bulletin, please call 355-6559 or 355-6079.

Philip A. Mackie Completes Coast Guard Training

Seaman Apprentice Philip A. Mackie, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Mackie of 276 E. Grand View Ave., Sierra Madre, has graduated from eight weeks of basic training at the Coast Guard Recruit Training Center at Alameda, Calif.

Guided by experienced Coast Guard senior petty officers during his training, he studied the fundamentals of such military and naval subjects as seamanship, infantry drill, shipboard procedures, and at-sea survival techniques. The basics of military customs and courtesies, and familiarization with Coast Guard's mission and responsibilities polished the skills he needed to make the transition from civilian to Coast Guardsman.

Civic Clubs Rally For July 4th

At their first meeting of 1967, representatives of many of the local civic and service organizations met to plan the Sierra Madre 1967 July 4th celebration.

Highlights of the meeting were: an announcement by the Parks and Recreation Director that the swim team will put on a show at noon; and the decision of the group to have a commercial division in the parade. Also, that the Chamber of Commerce will again award ribbons to all children participating in the festivities, and that prizes will again be awarded in certain specified categories.

All local children are urged to enter the parade and the activities in Sierra Vista Park. All Sierra Madre Civic and service organizations are urged to have entries in the parade, as well as sponsor booths of games or food in the park.

As in previous years, the community band will participate in the evening program at the Park. The balance of the program for this year has not yet been decided.

A further accomplishment of the group was formation of an association of representatives to set up this event annually. To be known as the Sierra Madre Independence Day Committee, the group elected Frances King, president; Harvey Birch, vice president; Dottie Underwood, secretary-treasurer. All Sierra Madre groups are requested to have a representative at the next meeting, which will be on April 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Park House in Memorial Park.

S.M. Rose Float Dance April 22

"Everything's Coming Up Roses" is the theme for a gala evening of dancing and cheer planned by members of the Sierra Madre Rose Float Association, as a prelude to their 1967 season of activities.

The festive occasion will be held on Saturday, April 22, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m., at La Salle High School in Pasadena.

Mrs. Edwin J. Cowan, dance chairman, has announced that tickets to the dance may be obtained by calling Mrs. Darwin Dennis, 355-6923, or Mrs. Ross Tyree, 355-9618, or from members of the Association.

An invitation to attend our dance," Mrs. Cowan says, "is cordially extended to all the many volunteer float workers, local residents and friends who take great pride in this community endeavor."

Sierra Madre's annual entry in the Tournament of Roses is constructed entirely through the efforts of volunteers and the Association will be encouraging new memberships for the coming year. Membership cards will be available at the dance and also during the coming months at the general meetings.

Mr. Kidd Lectures Creative Arts

An "appetizer" for pottery students and admirers of stoneware and other ceramic art developed through the centuries is Raymond Kidd's presentation of slides and his accompanying discussion of what he terms the "folk method" of constructing a pottery kiln. Kiln designs originated historically by Chinese and Japanese potters in developing their stoneware tradition, and evolved by folk craftsmen of the southern United States may be used by contemporary potters to build kilns and discover the simplicity and magic of this ancient tool.

The special event will take place on Friday evening, April 14, at 8 o'clock, at the Creative Arts Group center, 37 E. Montecito St., Sierra Madre, and all interested persons are invited to attend. There is no charge, and reservations are not necessary.

Mr. Kidd will be available to answer questions following the slide and lecture program. Persons wishing additional information may contact the Creative Arts Group on weekdays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., telephone 355-1450.

So. Calif. Rapid Transit Reduces Transfer Charge

New transfer benefits will be inaugurated Sunday, April 16 for RTD interurban passengers commuting between San Marino, Arcadia, Monrovia, Duarte, Azusa, Glendora, Sierra Madre, Santa Anita Highlands and downtown Los Angeles.

The public transit innovations — which will constitute a financial saving for many passengers — will be made financially feasible by a five-cent transfer charge, it was announced by Dale W. Barratt, Southern California Rapid Transit District general manager.

Passengers on the Los Angeles - Monrovia - Glendora Line 68 serving the area will purchase a five-cent transfer — instead of paying a new 25-cent fare — for further bus travel in the Los Angeles inner zone.

Revenue from the five-cent transfer charge, Barratt said, is expected to offset revenue losses resulting from lowering the cost of travel for interurban passengers riding buses into the Central Area.

"Thousands of persons arriving daily in the Los Angeles Central Area for employment, financial center transactions, civic center meetings and other activities presently pay an entirely separate fare due to restrictions stemming back many years to the private bus operations," he continued.

"We are pleased these individuals will — with a five-cent transfer — now be able to ride without further charge in the Los Angeles inner zone."

Line 68 passengers arriving on these lines in the Los Angeles Central Area — will with a five-cent transfer — be permitted to ride without further charge on 24 RTD bus lines operating in the Los Angeles inner zone, an area which extends over approximately a 4 mile radius around the central business district.

Thomas Durnings Celebrate Their 64th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Durnings, former residents of Sierra Madre celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary. They were married April 6, 1903 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Although they were born in the same small town, Bellevue, Pa., and attended school there. They hadn't met one another until both were invited to a friend's party; that started their romance.

After marrying and moving to St. Louis, Missouri, and living there for some years, they moved to California.

They came to Sierra Madre in 1941 and Durnings was appointed postmaster during the war years under the administration of Franklin Roosevelt. They stayed here until 1946.

During the war the Durnings lost their only son when he was killed at Pearl Harbor while serving in the Navy on the USS California. From Sierra Madre they moved to Atascadero when Mr. Durnings retired. They decided it was too hot and moved again, this time to Cambria, a small town in San Luis Obispo County.

There they live today in a little cottage they call "The Cottage From Blue to Gold." Which symbolizes the blue of the morning sky and sea to the gold of the evening.

Mr. Durnings attributes their successful, happy life together to maintaining a good sense of humor and looking on the bright side of life. "It doesn't cost anything and pays a 100 per cent dividend," he said.

Erik Altmetz

Erik Altmetz were wed in Encino and now live at 423 N. El Molino in Pasadena.

The day after they returned from their honeymoon in San Diego he set up business and started to work. The new Mrs. Altmetz didn't mind the time her husband put in on his garage before they were married. They lived too far apart to see each other a lot—she lived in San Fernando, and his new business kept him out of mischief!

Besides the Auto Body Shop, which is located at 2639 E. Foothill, there is another facet of his interest in cars. He designed and built in five years a custom car, which carries his own special mix of paint in candied apple red color. This car has appeared in four major auto magazine, and has been entered in 12 shows. From these 12 shows, the car has won two sweepstakes trophies and 10 first place trophies. It's been shown for five years.

Auto Body Shop not only can repair damaged metal, fiberglass, aluminum and wood, but they custom paint and can give complete body restorations. With Altmetz' kind of background, it's easy to know why a specialist job can be done.

Want to get a new hat, a pair of shoes, furniture, or clothing for the children? Where will you go to buy it? A DRUG store, naturally. 'Bout the only thing you might have difficulty finding in a drug store are drugs. Gone are the days of the mortar and pestle with the kindly old druggist dispensing his healing herbs over a counter bare of the miscellaneous clutter of today.

He might have had a big glass jar of horehound candy and peppermint sticks to ease the tickle in your throat. He'd offer a lot of friendly advice, a few news items of the day and a comforting word to the troubled. And on the other side he'd have a soda fountain.

Nowadays you wander through a myriad of fancy baubles, suitcases, liquor, tobacco, ready-to-wear, pots, pans, toys, lawn furniture, auto accessories, bedding, and way back in the bowels of the store is an apothecary counting pills out of big bottles.

No more sweet smells of ice cream mixed with the pungent aroma of herbs. True, we probably have safer dispensing, but the thrill is gone.

My children just read the above dissertation with eyebrows waving like flags. They have been strongly convinced that I came over the plains and now they are more convinced than ever, they have such modern memories.

And now, if you'll excuse me, I'm off to get a can of paint — at the DRUG store!

Georgann M. Amthor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Amthor of Barhite in Pasadena, became the bride of Randolph G. DeGregori, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeGregori of La Canada, in a morning ceremony on April 8 in the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church.

After the ceremony, performed by Father Timothy Crean, a reception was held in the wisteria-covered patio of the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a shimmering type dress of Saki with three tiers in back, edged with Venise lace. Her headpiece was created of the same fabric in a small bow trimmed with lace. She carried white roses with one large white orchid.

The maid of honor was Miss Gwinnette M. Amthor, the bride's sister, and her youngest sister Gertrude was a junior bridesmaid. They both carried Tropicana roses.

William Kraus was the best man, and the ushers were the bride's brothers, George and Grant Michael Amthor.

After a four-day honeymoon in Santa Barbara, the young couple returned to Pasadena. The bridegroom will depart on April 16 for duty in the United States Army in Panama.

Prior to the wedding the bride was feted with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Ben Rogers. The co-hostesses were Mrs. Jim Germain, Mrs. John Wiles, Mrs. A. J. Huber and Mrs. Ralph Paquette.

Traditional wedding bells and white doves were the predominating decorations accented with gold, white and orange flowers. Linens and personal gifts were the principle gifts of the evening. Those invited were Mrs. George Amthor, Mrs. Joseph DeGregori, Mrs. Richard Vanderhaar, Mrs. O. J. Coleman, Mrs. Bill Caskran, Mrs. Ernie Arnold, Mrs. Ethel Becker, Mrs. Ray Lucas, Mrs. Juanita Whitely, Mrs. Dan Fletcher, Mrs. Robert Box, Mrs. Karl Dauble, Miss Janet Dauble, Mrs. Arthur Brearley, Mrs. Russell Vaniman, Mrs. Edwin Pyle, Mrs. Henry Becker, Mrs. Andy Ong, Mrs. E. ## Dr. Grassel Speaks On Hosteling

Sierra Madre will be the host city to a private, international meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Brand.

This unique reception is to hear Dr. Anton Grassel, president of the International Youth Hostel Federation, and his nine council executives speak on youth hosteling.

These ten men are on tour around the world. They have been in the United States since April 1 when they arrived in New York from their various countries. They represent Germany, Austria, Denmark, Belgium, France, Japan, Norway, Scotland and the United Arab Republic. Their trip is sponsored by Pan American Airways and they will remain on tour until April 17.

The purpose for touring the United States and lecturing to those interested is to initiate interest for more youth hostels and show hosteling advantages.

Youth hostels are like motels for travelers in a friendly inn type of atmosphere. They charge very low rates, which enables travelers to go across country or through other countries at the minimum cost.

There are 125 hostels and 30,000 members throughout the United States. Youth hostels are very popular in Europe and South America. They cover 41 countries in the free world.

One of the hikes the American Youth Hostels take has been named after Carl Brand.

Mr. Warren Asa, Western Regional director of American Youth Hostels, Incorporated, will host the reception. He is Mrs. Brand's son-in-law.

You and Your Neighbor

By LYNN RICHARDSON

Mrs. Elizabeth Soho is sure nice to talk to—she's amiable and friendly. We chatted for awhile and she told me of the birthday party for Lola Kromka. Five of Mrs. Kromka's friends, Mary Caughlin, Nina Bertoldi, Rosalie Swim and Mrs. Soho, took her out for lunch and presented her with some darling gifts. It's always so pleasant to enjoy birthdays in the company of good friends.

The Jackson of 161 Colony have been under the weather all winter. Irene Jackson said their children haven't been this sick since they lived in Seattle nine years ago. She has been fighting the stomach flu these past few days.

Sophie Oros of 70 Victoria Lane would appear to live a very quiet life. But this little lady is really bustling around. She has many hobbies to keep her more than just occupied. One interesting hobby is collecting bottles. She has bottles from all over the world. In one collection she has 400 perfume bottles! She has gotten most of them from friends and relatives who, knowing she is interested, send her unusual bottles.

Melanie and Del Harb are on split sessions, as are the rest of the children in Sierra Madre School. They go at different times, much to their mother's great distress. Mrs. Harb told me she hasn't a moment to herself now; that can really throw your work schedule off! The Harbs' two older children are away from home right now. Barbara is with United Airlines as a stewardess, with Chicago as her home base. Steve is in the Navy and preparing for another overseas trip on the USS Frank Knox in the summer.

Mrs. Dolly Carroll of 2121 N. Santa Anita said her daughters and herself enjoyed a quiet Easter together. The girls have been busy with school and work. Harlean is an attorney in Hollywood, Margaret Ann is a teacher and Ellen Rose is a student at USC. Ellen has been out to Palm Springs for a week and she got a beautiful tan. In between rains, that's what most of us are TRYING to do!

Villa Views by Toni

John Garo, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. William Mosandal, Miss Louise DeGregory, Mrs. Richard O'Neill, Mrs. Charles Klingerman, Miss Janet Klingerman, and Gwinnette and Gertrude Amthor, and Rita and Carol Rogers.

The excitement is building up over the "Rosemary Goes To the Opry" dinner dance to be presented by the Villa Guild on Saturday, April 16. If you haven't turned in your reservations for heaven's sake don't waste another minute.

Understand that Mr. Fred J. Clark has consented to add atmosphere to the ball room with some of the lovely pieces from the Antiques and Art Center.

The "Favorites" will be playing throughout the entire evening. See you there?

I love to write about weddings and there was another in the Kinneloa area.

A fireplace banked in ferns and cymbidium orchids formed the background for the marriage ceremony of Virginia Fitch Grattidge and Edward Thomas Austin of Los Angeles on Saturday, March 25. Dr. David M. Held, minister of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena, performed the rite at the Kinneloa Canyon home of the bride's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Schluter. A reception followed in the family room.

The bride wore a pink silk gown and coat ensemble with matching hat and shoes. She carried a white orchid with a cascade of pink baby roses.

Mrs. Russell Atkinson of Crestline, the matron of honor, observed the bridal colors in her pink cymbidium cascade. Her husband, Dr. Russell Atkinson, was best man.

Guests included the Schluter children: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Beehler of Crestline and their children (Mrs. Beehler is the former Marilou Grattidge); Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ross of North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Jan

License Suckers Must Be On Car

Monday, April 10 was make - sure - your - sticker - is - showing day.

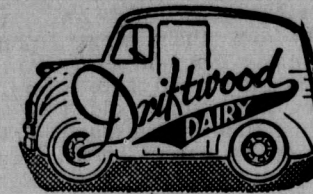

It was the deadline to get that 1967 rear license plate sticker — the blue one — out of the glove compartment or the DMV envelope and displayed for public view. It is designed for the upper left hand corner of the rear plate. It tells the traffic officer that you have paid your statutory registration and vehicle license fees for the current year, and that your car is right with the law for operation on California streets and highways. If he doesn't see it, he may cite you for a registration violation.

Human beings are different and no rule can be applied to them en masse.

Your children will tell you what's wrong with you without the necessity of questioning.

The reminder comes from Verne Orr, Director of Motor Vehicles, who has flashed the word to "All Enforcement Agencies" that California vehicle registration is about complete in all of its multiple aspects, and any motorists asked about their vehicles' status "should now be in possession of 1967 vehicle stickers, a receipt for 1967 fees, or an explanatory letter from the department of motor vehicles." The letter would serve in case a motorist had unusually complex verification or other problems that might create delay in delivery of the little seal.

Mrs. Hazel L. Spoelstra passed away April 9, at the age of 73 years, following a lengthy illness.
Formerly a resident of Sierra Madre, she originally came from Michigan, 39 years ago. She most recently was a resident of 2360 E. Mountain, in Pasadena.
She was the spouse of the late John E. Spoelstra, who passed away in August of 1965. They were long time members of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church.
Survivors are: Mrs. Fred H. Felber, daughter from Altadena; Mrs. James E. McKee, sister from Belding, Michigan and three grandchildren.
Funeral services were held in the Sierra Madre Congregational Church, on Tuesday, April 11, at 2 p.m. Reverend David Howell presided.
Ripple Mortuary made the arrangements. Interment was at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Glendale.

Advancing To the Rear

According to U.S. News & World Report, a wide array of businesses and their employees are now feeling the effects of the new minimum wage law. Under the new law, the minimum wage level rose on February 1 to $1.40 an hour from $1.25 and is scheduled to go to $1.60 next year. Results of a survey by U.S. News show that the latest changes in the minimum wage are speeding mechanization and resulting in layoffs, mostly among unskilled or least productive workers. Another publication, the Los Angeles Times, reports: "President Johnson is expected to announce soon a crash program in poverty areas of big cities . . ."

Thus, we have one branch of government legislating jobs out of existence and undermining taxpaying private enterprise, while another branch of government pours out tax funds to create jobs in its war on poverty.

New Life In the States

One of the arguments in favor of centralized federal control of more and more governmental functions has been that local governments have become increasingly archaic and ineffective. State Governors are aware of the threat of expanding federal authority.

The Governor of Washington State observes, "State governments are unquestionably on trial today. If we are not willing to pay the price, if we cannot change where change is required, then we have only one recourse. And that is to prepare for an orderly transfer of our remaining responsibilities to the federal government." Many Governors are moving to update state constitutions and the machinery of state governments to cope with many problems that have developed with population growth and complex industrialization.

The rebirth of the states is also going to cost money. Governors in state after state are asking for tax boosts. California is typical. There, Governor Reagan has announced that he may need nearly a billion dollars in new or boosted taxes, even after drastically cutting spending.

There is far more than a social and economic problem involved in this. The big issue is whether control of the nation's affairs is to pass entirely to the federal government. State government and local control go hand in hand. Thus, it is highly encouraging to see a rebirth of initiative among the several states. States' rights are among our most important safeguards of freedom.

Bitter Irony

Many thoughtful observers find it almost impossible to reconcile their understanding of freedom under representative government with the doctrine of dependence on government which has been burgeoning in the United States. We read the papers to see what the government is going to do next that will change the course of our lives. Endless hours are spent by people all over the country trying to figure out how some new government directive or plan will affect them. Government has become the most important word in the language.

As the role of government grows, what is to become of the supremacy of the individual and local responsibility? Dr. Felix Morley, Pulitzer Prize-winning former newspaper editor and college president, ably describes the feeling of many people. "There is abundant evidence of disquiet over the contradiction between our traditions and the present reliance on centralized government. A country with institutions based on the principle of diffused power is endeavoring to accomplish ends demanding the utmost concentration of power . . ."

"Of course the forces operating to take the power from the people are numerous and persuasive. This is no longer the primitive agricultural country that produced the genius of the Founding Fathers. But it would be one of the most bitter ironies in all history if the technological demands of the modern age should be allowed to smother the philosophy which alone made our unprecedented accomplishment possible."

Shortened 'Yardsticks'

Speaking at a conference on utility regulatory problems, a member of Congress has strongly advocated the expansion of government-subsidized power systems as a means of preserving a competitive "yardstick" for influencing and judging the fairness of the rates of the regulated, investor-owned, taxpaying electric industry. He expressed fear that if public power does not grow the loser will be the American public.

It is difficult to follow this line of reasoning. In the first place, it implies that state and federal regulatory authorities are falling down on the job of overseeing the rate structure of the utility industry. This hardly seems likely since the price of electric energy is one of the few items in the family budget that has held the line against inflation.

How in the name of common sense can the rates of a subsidized, tax-exempt government power project be used to judge the fairness of the rates of an investor-owned, taxpaying electric company which receives no subsidy of any kind?

The "yardstick" argument of public power advocates, to put it mildly, is without merit and will remain so until commercial government electric power projects are subjected to the same laws, taxes and interest charges that must be paid by the investor-owned enterprises with which they compete. At a time when the nation's taxpayers are burdened more than ever before with the cost of government, the subsidized rate "yardstick" of federal power projects are both meaningless and costly.

FREEDOM AT ANY PRICE

by
DR. HENRY V. WITTY
Management of this newspaper is not capable of answering questions to this column; however letters to the editor will be published.

Dr. Linus Carl Pauling is the recipient of both the Nobel Prize in Chemistry (1954) and the Nobel Peace Prize (1962). This might suggest to some that to garner the latter, one needs only a desire for peace at any price and a thorough indoctrination in Communism.

On December 6, 1963, as guest speaker for the American Civil Liberties Union, Pauling attacked "selfish interests" which, according to his calculations, are represented and protected by Congressional Investigating Committees. Pauling just might harbor a personal grudge against such "watch-dog" committees, as he has been identified before one by sworn testimony at a member of the Communist Party U. S. A.

The Nobel Prize winner has joined forces with such Marxist dupes as Robert Hutchins, Ping Ferry and Bishop Pike in lavishing his "talents" on The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions. This far-left sanctuary is better known to many as The Center for the Destruction of Free Enterprise!

On February 6, 1964, Pauling addressed the student assembly on the Kellogg Campus of the California State Polytechnic College. His remarks dealt with chemical and biological warfare. Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad taped the speaker's words, and the following is a short portion of this tape—enough to point out just how far a man of Pauling's stripe will go to confuse and deceive a young audience.

Said Pauling: "I think we should have an international agreement now under which, as proposed by the Pugwash Conference . . . the Fifth Pugwash Conference of Scientists from nineteen nations . . . under which research in this field would be stopped and there would be complete abolition of secrecy in all microbiological, bacteriological, toxicological and pharmacological laboratories in all countries, with, of course, international inspection of all these laboratories."

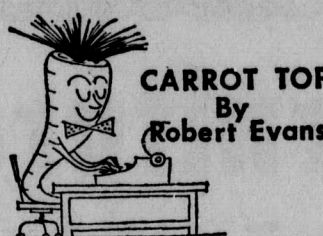

Commenting on the above remarks by Pauling, Assemblyman Conrad says: "What was the Fifth Pugwash Conference? The so-called Pugwash Conferences were financed by Cyrus E. Eaton and the Fifth Conference was held at Mr. Eaton's home in Pugwash, Nova Scotia, August 25-30, 1959."

"Cyrus Eaton is a Canadian-born American millionaire, who has delivered many venomous attacks on his adopted country but never has been known to criticize the Soviet Union."

"If D. Pauling knows the recommendations of the Fifth Pugwash Conference, he has access to information denied other Americans for the conferences were secret meetings."

"However, a Soviet broadcast on December 28, 1959, announced that Cyrus Eaton had sent Nikita Khrushchev a volume of documents on the Pugwash Conferences and received a letter of thanks from the Soviet Dictator dated December 24, 1959."

"Whereupon, the International Security Subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the United States Senate wrote Mr. Eaton on January 4, 1960, requesting a big "Spring" sale at Arnold's Hardware. Actually you can save enough money on this sale to make a good donation to the Search and Rescue Team and have a little left over for yourself . . . But do it today.

— CT —
Be sure that you attend all of the functions put on by the Search and Rescue Team this month, they will be found on Page One of this issue, and are all made to give a much better insight on the operations of the team and as to why they need funds to keep in operation.

By this time we should have a new Mayor, and at this writing we are ignorant as to whom it may be; but we tell whom ever it be, to fight, fight for the rights of the people of Sierra Madre as a whole . . .

— CT —
If you will not fight for the right when you can easily win without bloodshed, if you will not fight when your victory will be sure and not too costly; you may come to the moment when you will have to fight with all the odds against you and only a prevarious chance of survival.

— CT —
There may even be a worse case . . . You may have to fight when there is no hope of victory, because it is better to perish than live as slaves . . . Remember this always, I hope, I hope, I hope.

Out of the Cobwebs

Ten Years Ago:
April 11, 1957

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lange of Sierra Madre are proud and happy grandparents. Their daughter, Mrs. Ronald Westerman, gave birth to twins, a boy and a girl. The new arrivals are named Eric Mason and Lisa Marie. The grandparents drove up to Santa Barbara to be there for the happy event.

Queen Marianne Cumming reigns over the 1957 Wistaria Festival. The vine will be in bloom in the early part of May. This beautiful young lady is excitedly looking ahead to the gala events which she will attend as part of her royal duties.

Sierra Madre Community Flower Show which was held in the Congregational Church was a great success. Mrs. Bette Burr was chairman of the traditional affair which is sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the church. After a silver tea affair, the ladies received awards for their achievements in the past year.

The Lone Star State Easter Picnic will be held at Sycamore Grove Park in Los Angeles on April 21.

Twenty Years Ago:
April 3, 1947
Fishing season is here and everyone is starting to get spring fever. Sierra Madre has three sources of fishing licenses and equipment. Welch's Home and Garden Supply, Rasmussen's and Sierra Madre Hardware are the ones.

The Bethany Church called Rev. C. R. Nida to fill the vacancy of pastor. He is a graduate of Wheaton College in Illinois and of Grace Theological Seminary of Indiana. He served in the Army as a chaplain and spent 33 months overseas.

A barrage of bright lights sliced the evening skies last Tuesday when Al Foxton's new Chevron Station opened in Sierra Madre. The informal ceremony was witnessed by both young veteran Foxton and the former owner, now retired from business, Mayor Milton Steinberger.

Thirty Years Ago:
April 16, 1937
Sierra Madre is fast becoming a Mecca for poets of this country and throughout the world. Exactly 102 poems were submitted to the Wistaria Poetry Contest. The winning poems will be read by their authors during the Wistaria Vine Celebration tomorrow.

You and Your Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. Lundholm of 329 E. Highland, have been running a hotel it seems! They hosted a cousin and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Main of Latona, Ill., for 12 days during their stay in Southern California. They all went out to Hemet for a day to see some friends and enjoy the beautiful, green landscape this time of year. Before Easter, their daughter from Canoga Park came over to see them and brought her four daughters. April 3, brought some friends from Tacoma, Washington and they went to Solvang to enjoy the lovely green country and clear blue skies. Grandson, Paul Rutherford from Temple City, came up during his spring vacation on April 4 and stayed with his grandparents. Then the Stadlers, who once owned the Lundholm's house came up to Sierra Madre from their present home in Laguna Hills for a visit and business. All in all they have had a lively spring time.

The test of brains is whether you can violently disagree with a person and not feel any personal resentment against him in a discussion of your differences.

Southern California Gas Co. Pays Sierra Madre $8,462

Southern Counties Gas Co. last week paid $2,474,726.93 to eight Southland counties and 105 of their cities in the form of franchise payments, according to R. E. Harbicht, local manager for the utility.

Payments to Los Angeles County and 50 of its cities amounted to a total of $1,015,956.16. The County received $214,961.43. The City of Los Angeles, which received its franchise payment from Southern Counties at the end of February, was paid $253,023.82. Franchise payment to Sierra Madre came to $8,462.97. Franchise payments are made by investor-owned gas, electricity, and water utilities for the use of public streets and highways.

Adding the total franchise payments and property taxes paid by Southern Counties for 1966 gives a combined figure of approximately $10,863,500 which the gas company has paid to counties and cities in which it serves gas or has property.

This combined total, Harbicht pointed out, means that Southern Counties pays an average of more than $10 to local governments for each one of the more than one million customers it was serving as of year-end 1966.

Combined franchise payments and property taxes paid by Southern Counties to Los Angeles County and its cities for 1966 will total more than $4,396,600, Harbicht said.

The flag-raising ceremony this coming Saturday promises to be a real red letter day in Sierra Madre's history. The American Flag will be raised for the first time by Miss Mattie Seeley and a squad of Civil War veterans will present the flag. Ceremonies will take place on the corner of Central and Baldwin Avenues.

Rev. C. C. Wilson has been invited to become the minister of the First Congregational Church. Rev. Wilson is from Wisconsin and is a graduate of Hiram College in Hiram, Ohio. He was voted to the position unanimously last Friday evening.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The following is an open letter to the Pasadena School Board:

Gentlemen:

You were elected to represent the citizens of this community, and to act in our best interests. Your election was primarily due to your platform of maintaining the principle of the neighborhood school, a concern of our town.

The prevailing platform at the last School Board election was one which was opposed to cross-town bussing, a radical innovation which the Congress specifically avoided.

Since your election, the Board redistricted to send Sierra Madre small children out of town, across a main thoroughfare to grammar school. A voluminous propaganda campaign was launched, in part by commercial interests to sell a bond issue for sums larger than what appeared by voters to be needed.

A second bond issue proposal was also defeated, even though offered in three separate parts, because the organized bond-pushers did not prove their case sufficiently. The school tax rate is very high; is it the highest in the nation, or just one of the highest?

The Field Act has long been on the statute books . . . why was not provision made each year for some renovation out of the high school taxes?

What are the contractors' bids and estimates for renovation of Sierra Madre School? Can this work be done in the Summer? Now you want to bring on a third bonding proposal, to burden us with interest and discount charges in addition to the capital outlay.

Your planning has been at the least unimaginative. You seem to try to solve all of your problems with a bond issue. You condemned Sierra Madre School and put the kids in trailers, but are the trailers, as situated, much safer than the school building? You prescribe for the parents and voters and ratepayers and homeowners here (all about the same people) as if we were ignoramuses without eyes and ears and common sense; you listen to gentlemen with doctorates who have little concept of how we voters feel and of what we, the taxpayers, want for OUR children. You forget who works for whom in a local school situation.

The total real property tax is too high; people have had to sell their homes and move just because of real property tax increases; some older folks have even lost their ability to own a home at all. The government used to encourage citizens to own their own home; now working men with families are discouraged.

You recently hired a new Superintendent, whose principal claim to publicity was that he succeeded in destroying usable school buildings, and in beginning the implementation of revisionist racial theory. At the present time, there exists a situation of "no confidence" between the voters here and their School Board.

Board policy in this District will be determined by the voters, who intend to protect their property, to insist upon fundamental academic education (three R's with academic disciplines and preparation for higher schooling), to press for a budget they can afford, to maintain neighborhood schools, and to elect representatives who respect the viewpoint of us working men who are the heads of families and who are the backbone of a community.

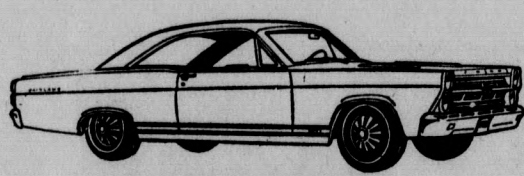

What have you been using for fiscal planning over there . . . guesswork? wishful thinking? What are you going to do if this new bond issue floatation fails to win the confidence of the public . . . try another one, or resign? What is the ratio of teachers to other employees? Has it increased in the past few years, to show more efficiency, or has it become another indicator of Parkinson's Law?

I was born in Pasadena, and have seen the changes. Many of the citizens hereabouts are professional and managerial men who are better informed about the community needs than the administrators. You might try listening to the voices of the community rather than the eggheads on your staff.

The mood of the voters is not destructive nor hypercritical; we are sore about the way some of the school affairs have been handled. We hope that you can straighten them out. In any event, be assured that candidates who reflect the desires of the voters and who, we think, may make an effort to keep their campaign promises will be favored.

A Citizen of
Sierra Madre

'Housing Crisis of '66 Over' Apts. Sought, Says Expert

Recent strength in the apartment sector of the Southland's market for new housing is likely to be maintained, according to Howard Edgerton, chairman of California Federal Savings and Loan Association.

He predicted that a pattern of relatively high consumer preference for apartment living "is likely to characterize the remainder of this decade and carry on into the early 1970s."

Edgerton, head of the nation's largest federally chartered savings association, noted that multifamily units have nearly doubled their share of the nation's new housing market since 1959 and for several years have accounted for more than one-third of new starts. In Southern California, multifamily construction accounted for 53 percent of all housing starts since 1959.

"The relative strength of the multifamily sector of the new housing market was certainly apparent in the Los Angeles area last year, as we worked off part of the overhang of unsold new homes and vacant apartments," Edgerton said.

"While there was some reduction in the surplus of single-family homes, the drop in apartment vacancies was dramatic. It is estimated that in the first half of 1966, some 30,000 apartment units were taken off the market in Los Angeles County."

"Apartment vacancy rates in Los Angeles County are now down below 7 percent, compared with almost 12 percent a year ago. The apartment demand has revived to an extent where, for the first time in recent years, some apartment rents may begin to increase."

Several factors, Edgerton went on, lie behind the recent shift in consumer preference to multifamily dwellings.

They include smaller families, the rising cost of home ownership, higher home maintenance costs and longer commuting distances to new developments. But more important for future housing patterns, Edgerton continued, are forthcoming changes in the population's age composition.

"Both for reasons of personal preference and inability to finance the purchase of a home, apartment living is more prevalent among new, young families than among more mature ones,"

Edgerton said. "Nationwide, the Census Bureau reports that the greatest increases in households between now and 1975 will be those where the family head is under 35 years of age—and between now and 1970, there will be almost as many more with the head aged less than 25 as in the 25-34 bracket."

"At the same time, we can expect a decline in households in the 35-44 brackets, the years when most men near the peak of their earning power and are in the market for higher-priced, single-family dwellings."

The California Federal executive emphasized, however, that even though apartment construction may be the most dynamic sector of the new housing market in the immediate future, the market for new and existing single-family homes will also benefit from a revival in housing generally.

"The tight money housing crisis of 1966 is over," Edgerton concluded, "and barring a dramatic step-up of hostilities in Asia, a gradual resurgence in the residential real estate market should take place."

"Government policies are now aimed at promoting a strong revival in housing, to counteract slowness in other sectors of the economy. At the same time, savings are flowing back to thrift institutions at a brisk rate and the supply of mortgage money is much better than last year."

"Looking ahead, the continued population growth in Southern California, plus higher salaries for young families and high Social Security person benefits for older people, all point to a gradual improvement in the new housing market that should culminate in a powerful upsurge by the end of this decade."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lawler of 415 E. Orange Grove are very proud of their son and daughter. Dennis is married and in the Air Force at Fort Walton Beach, in Florida. He and his bride, the former Jane Mohls of Pasadena, really love it there. Meanwhile, Linda is finishing up her senior year at PHS. She received the Bank of America Certificate for Outstanding Achievement, in Home Economics, which is quite an honor. Congratulations, Linda.

Pro-American April Meeting

The April meeting of Pro-America will feature as the speaker Mr. James Patrick Kirby, a well-known attorney in Pasadena, who will be discussing the subject of "How Our Courts Have Redefined Religion." His talk will analyze the so-called "school-prayer" decisions and their effect on the movement to secularize our nation.

Mr. Kirby has been a member of the California State Bar and various Federal Courts since 1937. He is admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court. As founder of an organization called Christian Resistance, Mr. Kirby was active in the formation of about 4,000 study groups on the subject of atheistic communism throughout the United States. He also is the author of a book entitled "The Red Flood."

The meeting will be held Thursday, April 13, at 10 a.m. in La Casita del Arroyo, 117 S. Arroyo Drive in Pasadena. Baby-sitting will be available and luncheon will be served to all members and their guests following the program.

Confidence and a sense of well-being . . . you can spot the person who has these qualities anywhere. Of the many factors that contribute to a man's or a woman's self-confidence, the knowledge that the clothing he or she is wearing is impeccably clean — inside and outside — is one of the most significant.

When you take a garment out of the closet and look it over, don't consider it clean just because there are no visible spots on the outside. Look to the inside. Be sure that perspiration or body oils have not seeped into the fabric. If you discover this has happened, get it to your cleaner as quickly as possible.

If these are allowed to remain and get "set" the result is often ruinous. This is understandable when we stop to realize that the body chemistry of individuals is as varied as humanity itself. Regular, frequent cleaning minimizes the deteriorating effects of perspiration and body oils, adds to the life of your garment — keeps it fresh and odorless.

You'll wear your clothes with pride and confidence when they have been thoroughly and scientifically cleaned by our up-to-the-minute methods. You can bring us your most delicate fabrics and be sure that we'll give them the careful, personal attention they need and deserve.

Free moth-proofing of everything we clean.

Pasadena Area of Delta Delta Delta Holds Their Scholarship Benefit

Members of the Pasadena Area Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta will turn to a locale of early California history for their Scholarship Benefit to be held Tuesday, April 18, in San Gabriel.

At 330 Santa Anita St., across the street from the site of the "Old Grapevine," is one of the oldest remaining structures in California, "La Casa Vieja Adobe," or as it is now called, the "Lopez de Lowther Adobe." Built between 1800-1806 as one of the Mission San Gabriel buildings, it was one of the original structures that formed the west area of the great Mission Quadrangle in the early Mission days.

In 1849, this house and grounds were acquired by Don Juan Nepomuceno Lopez for his family home, where they lived for many years. One of his direct descendants, Senora Marie Lopez de Lowther, was born there and lived in this adobe until two years ago. The Casa has been kept in excellent condition and still retains its Spanish charm, with its lovely rose and azalea gardens, its wooded paths and miniature fountain in the central patio.

Senora Lopez de Lowther was a Spanish teacher at UCLA for many years, and many of her former students remember the delightful fiestas they enjoyed at this adobe, as well as the many tales of the early days of Senora de Lowther told of her childhood there. The Adobe is now preserved as a museum by the City of San Gabriel.

Mrs. Norman R. Dowds, president of Pasadena Trideltas, has announced that the members and their guests will enjoy a Spanish luncheon at El Poche Restaurant on Mission St. in San Gabriel at 12 noon. Following the luncheon there will be a guided tour of La Casa Lopez de Lowther by San Gabriel's Postmaster, Mr. Charles Elgar, who will relate some interesting events in early California history that took place in this vicinity.

Chairman of the benefit,

Mrs. R. Vincent Douglas, has chosen the following committees: Invitations, Mmes. Norman R. Dowds, Harry Barnes, R. V. Douglas, C. M. Woodward and H. H. Libby; scholarships, Mrs. Donald M. Sperry, Miss Susan Riley and Mrs. George C. Briggs Jr.; decorations, Mmes. T. E. Montgomery Jr., Henry Van Gieson, Lorin Wilson, Joseph Chowning and Fred Garrison; publicity, Mrs. C. M. Woodward; reservations, Mrs. Clyde Hyslop, 799-6313, San Marino, and Mrs. Harold H. Libby, 357-1422, Arcadia.

Mmes. Dowds, Garrison, and Hyslop are from San Marino; Mrs. Barnes is from San Gabriel; Miss Susan Riley is from Temple City; Mrs. Montgomery and Miss Ballard are from Alhambra; Mrs. Chowning is from Altadena; Mrs. Van Gieson, Mrs. Woodward and Mrs. Briggs are from Pasadena; Mrs. Sperry is from South Pasadena, and Mrs. Libby is from Arcadia.

All Trideltas and their friends are urged to come.

First Baptist To Have Talent Test

First Baptist Church of Montebello, 136 S. 7th St., will have its Teen Talent Contest Saturday, April 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Last year three teenagers went to the State Finals in Fresno. The talent is expected to be the best anywhere. To highlight the evening of music the Azusa Pacific College Accents Choral will perform. Dr. Don Grant is the director. The Accents do a program of such quality that it is not often duplicated anywhere.

As a special event they will present the "Suburban Routh For Christ Dating Game," which will prove to be most interesting. Outstanding high school personalities will be the main features in this new game.

All are invited and there is no admission charge. If information is needed, call 289-7292 afternoons.

Library Has High Volume Circulation

At the Sierra Madre Public Library Board meeting last Tuesday night the board was again made aware of the substantial upsurge in library circulation.

Librarian Paul Ax reported that the first eight months of the present fiscal year showed an increase of 6,045 over the same eight months of the last fiscal year. The average increase per month has been 756.

The record shows that for the last three months circulation has exceeded 10,000, a continuing new record for library being set almost every month, without fail.

Photograph record circulation continued its tremendous upsurge also: 357 circulated in February, an all-time high and 1,050 records circulated in the four months since the collection was completely reorganized (only 128 records circulated during those four months a year ago).

The results of a three-month, December through February head count survey of persons entering the library were reported. The daily average was 260, or more than 2.2 per cent of the population; the daily head count ranged from a low of 115 to a high of 425. In an average 24-day month, it was estimated, on the basis of this survey, that more than 6,200 people — or about 52 per cent of Sierra Madre's population — use the library.

Circulation for March was 10,831, a gain of 1,036 over March of 1966 and a gain over February, 1967 of 704. Record circulation was 324 in March with art prints listed at 12. The book collection for the library at the present time has been estimated as 29,409 books, also gaining substantially each month.

Mr. Ax reported that inter-library borrowing within the San Gabriel Valley Library System has also shown substantial gains and shows every sign of even broader use.

It was also reported that library receipts will be far over the estimate given at last year's budget-preparation time.

Friends of the Library announced they had raised $913.91 through their annual book sale. This will be used as follows, one half for additional record and the other half for books for the library. This set a new record for their efforts in behalf of the library. $150 of this was raised by their auction of artifacts to the public.

Following its regular order of business the library board set about preparing its budget for the 1967-68 fiscal period.

Take your problems to CHURCH this week -- millions leave them there!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When Jimmy Clark crowned the tiny church with the steeple it touched my heart.

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother — and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything . . . doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.

Vista Del Mar Needs Helpers

Is there anyone in the San Gabriel Valley with room in their heart, time on their hands, and gas in their tank to drive a child to and from a vital appointment weekly?

The question comes from Vista Del Mar Child-Care Service, a United Way agency. Their children in San Gabriel area foster homes need transportation to and from the parent agency to the National off-ramp of the Santa Monica freeway.

"Whoever takes on this 'mitzvah' (responsibility), will be providing an important link in our chain of services to children," according to Vista Del Mar's case-worker, Mrs. Ellie Schnitzer. Phone Mrs. Schnitzer at either VE 9-2355 or 962-3511 for details.

Auxiliary Holds Evening Social

At the last meeting of Unit No. 297, American Legion Auxiliary, a social evening was enjoyed by the members at the home of Mrs. Clarence Noshier. The hostess carried out the Easter motif in refreshments and home decorations.

Jim and Doris Dittmar of 601 Mariposa went in every direction when Easter vacation came. Robert, 21, home from the Air Force for a week, Deanne, 18, a student nurse at Community General Hospital, and Kadene went to New Mexico and Texas to visit their aunts and uncles. They must have had a good time because Kadene didn't want to come back. Craig, 18, went with their neighbors to Sacramento to visit. Kevin, 15, and Vaughn, 14, went with their dad to the desert. Meanwhile, back at the homestead, Doris Dittmar caught up on her ironing, and took care of their two foster children, David and Laura, who are nine months old. She said all the children enjoyed their vacation tremendously, and she's glad to have them home, because she missed the noise!

Mary K. Maloney Passes Away

Mrs. Minnie Stinman gave an interesting account of her recent birthday celebration, her 90th, and also carried off the door prize. Games were a part of the very pleasant affair with a short business session when Americanism chairman, Mrs. Orceila Henderson named the winners in the yearly Americanism Essay Contest sponsored by the Unit. The subject was "Freedom and My Beloved America" and participants were the Alverno Heights Academy. Winners were:

First prize—Anna Ituarte, 621 Alameda St., Altadena; second prize—Delores Sierra, 2611 N. Marengo Ave., Altadena; third prize—Denise Rd., Pasadena; honorable mention—Susan Banis, 420 E. Montecito, Sierra Madre. Judges were Lieut. Martin Stornie of the Pasadena Police Department, Mr. David Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Jean McGee.

Prizes were cash awards and citations. The next meeting of the Unit will be on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Wayne Perry, 40 S. Hermosa, April 13.

Mary K. Maloney Passes Away

Mrs. Mary K. Maloney passed away on April 4, in her home at 620 Oak Crest. She was born in Kentucky 86 years ago. Two years ago she came to Sierra Madre, after living in other areas of California for 24 years. Two sons surviving her are: William F. Maloney of Sierra Madre and Walter T. Maloney of Reno, Nevada. Also there are seven grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Rosary was recited on Monday, April 3, at 8 p.m. with Requiem Mass celebrated by Rev. Thomas O'Malley, at St. Rita's Church on Tuesday, April 4, at 9 p.m. Ripple Mortuary handled the funeral arrangements. The interment was in Resurrection Cemetery in South San Gabriel.

V.I.P. Travel

By
Margaret A. Ferguson
Sierra Madre News
Travel Editor

American Express has a delightful selection of escorted tours to choose from this year . . . the Orient, Eastern Mediterranean, Europe, Around the World . . . where else is there left to go? And the modes of transportation they've chosen range from steam ships to "ships of the desert," from buses to horses, depending upon the region you're exploring. In the Mediterranean countries Cleopatra's beloved Nile, the tranquil Sea of Galilee, and the brilliant Greek Islands simply must be seen from the decks of a gleaming steamer. Long lost Petra, the "rosy Red" forgotten city is so secluded still, that horseback travel is the only method of entering its portals. On the Red Sea, only a glass-bottomed boat suffices to show off the tropical fish fathoms below; and the Pyramids gain added dimension when viewed from the gently swaying back of a camel . . . how's that for imagination!

Speaking of imagination, I well remember my first visit to Lebanon and my experience with the "mezza." My guide had taken me to a restaurant outside a small village, tucked away among the foothills. Our table was a huge brass tray, and instead of chairs we sat on low camel-saddle stools . . . on the floor were thick sheepskin rugs for "sitting" too. The heavy odor of Turkish coffee, spices and incense floated on the air, and erie music which sounded half Oriental and half Egyptian drifted around the room. I became so utterly fascinated by all this atmosphere I wouldn't have even missed dinner, had it not been placed before me in 33 separate dishes.

Thirty-three dishes of cheeses, fish, tomatoes, olives, beets, nuts, celery, meats, figs, onions, oranges, all of which had been spiced, marinated, shredded, diced, molded, and smoked in every conceivable manner.

With this was served a flat, round, rather crisp bread, similar to the Mexican tortilla, but thicker, and their native drink, a clear substance until water is added, when it immediately clouds up and over! And all of this was to be eaten with the fingers!

At first I dipped in very daintily, very lady-like, and suddenly I realized my guide was using all ten fingers of both hands and doing, really, much better. So, in I dived and soon my chin was a greasy as his . . . but it did taste better that way!

All this, mixed like the fabled perfumes of Arabia, with a sail on the Sea of Galilee, a rendezvous with the Sphinx, the wine cellars of Israel, the Turkish bazaars, the mosques, minarets, snake charmers, belly dancers, camel drivers, golden mummies, white-robed sheikhs, marble palaces, shifting sands . . . all form a blend as brilliant as Joseph's many-colored coat . . . and it's all yours for a phone call to V.I.P. Travel, 355-1438!

This is a good time to catch up with your work before spring fever catches up with you.

Letters To the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:
I'm a sub-citizen. No credit rating. It happened the day I was 65. But I did not know it until today. I was in an appliance store. Didn't ask for credit but the salesman said, "I presume you are prepared to have a younger person co-sign with you?" I did not know what he meant. I had not been "declared" or "committed." Financial papers had to be co-signed by a younger, responsible person.

And I'd felt so stuck up when I received a catalog from Gorrington of London, the Queen's favorite store, inviting me to make purchase on a certain credit card. They'd even air mail the stuff to me. Golly, what a let-down!

I called the manager of the credit department of a big store where we have had an account for nearly a half-century. He said since we were established customers we could use the revolving plan regardless of age. I said, "If we make a $900 purchase on the 30-day account and after making $300 payment at end of 30 days should we decide to pay the remainder in two payments, what would the service charge be?" His reply "$30." Golly, what a high rate of interest. Of course I had no idea of buying anything beyond the 30-day interest-free account. But what an education! It is clear why individual bankruptcies are climbing at an ever higher rate. Many people buy anything and everything, not realizing how much it is costing them. And there are many compulsive buyers turned loose in this nation of easy credit.

But what would our economy do without all this easy buying? We head the world in the production of goods, but could we without all this NO MONEY DOWN deal? What would happen if no one bought anything unless he could pay cash for it? Or if even ON-TIME buying were limited to real estate? When I think of all this, the big national debt, and how low our gold stock is getting, brother, this old sub-citizen begins to wonder!

Mrs. Archer Frey of 354 N. Cañon has been busy with her hobby. She makes corsets, boutonnieres, carrying piece and table settings. She made 12 corsets, nine boutonnieres and one carrying piece for an Eastern Star event, on March 14. Soon afterward, on March 22, she made 10 corsets for the Woman's Club. This coming May she'll again help her Eastern Star, of which she is a member, by making the table decorations for the Line Party. It's certainly rewarding to be so talented.
